No copies have been or will be made of any of these pictures by the artists; hence, if intended for your own home or for a wedding gift there is no fear of a duplication. They are all pictures of merit and are appropriately framed in rich, deep gold burnished frames, with shadow boxes to protect them. The assortment of subjects is broad, and comprises Figures, Character Pieces, Marine Views, Landscape, and Venetian Scenes.

IN THE SOCIAL WORLD

Novel Musical Features for Brown-Ridgely Wedding.

DEPARTURE OF THE KORNER

Popular Members of German Embassy Preparing to Leave for Berlin-Senior and Senora Pastor Home From Spain-Brilliant Wedding of Miss Faulkner to Mr. Snodgrass.

At the wedding to-day of Miss Katherine Ridgely and Mr. Phelps Brown there will be one or two novel and interesting features.

Besides the Mendelssohn and Wagner wedding marches, the organist, Mr. Harry Wheaton Howard, who trained the cast of "We Are in Society," the society play written by Mr. Brown, and so successfully put on the Belasco stage by the combined efforts of Miss Ridgely and Mr. Brown, will play selections from the opera. These are known to all their friends, every one having heard them during the four performances of the musical play, and naturally are of significance to the young people themselves, as it was during the long rehearsals and other business connected with the play that their acquaintance ripened into something stronger, for their engagement announced shortly after, as a climax.

The clergyman who will perform the ceremony is Rev. William H. Casey, of New York, who has married Mr. Brown's mother and sister, and will also perform the ceremony for his second sister, Miss Gertrude Brown, who is to be married next month to Mr. George L. Huntress, Jr. Mr. Casey has lately succeeded to the title of Lord Brampton, from his uncle, Sir Henry Hawkins, and is shortly to go to England to claim his title.

A rehearsal of the wedding ceremony was held last night, after which a supper was served at Mrs. Ridgely's home to the wedding party.

Mrs. Leonard Wood, wife of Gen. Wood, is the guest of Mrs. Albert Key, U. S. N.

An interesting young man to join the ranks of this season's debutantes is Mlle. Nabuco, the eldest daughter of the Brazilian Ambassador and Mme. Nabuco. Mlle. Nabuco, who will be the only debutante of the diplomatic corps, is now with her mother, brothers, and sisters in Europe, where they spent the summer. They will return, probably, next month. Mlle. Nabuco is an attractive girl of dark coloring and gentle and agreeable manner.

The many friends of Maj. and Mme. Korner will learn with regret of the departure of Maj. Korner to the general staff of the German army in Berlin. Maj. and Mme. Korner has just returned from their leave, spent in Europe, and are now preparing to return to the Fatherland next month. Both are great favorites socially and will be greatly missed. Mme. Korner is one of the most attractive women ever connected with the German Embassy personnel, her charming personality and cordial manner having won her a host of American friends, who will be sorry to part with her. In appearance she much resembles the vivacious and popular Fritz Schell.

Senor Pina, the Spanish minister, who was expected here very soon, has postponed sailing for this country until the middle of next month. Senor Pina took an apartment temporarily at the Connecticut last winter, but will lease a house this coming season, and will entertain extensively. He is a most agreeable and handsome bachelor, and his list of friends in Washington is strictly a long one. Senor Pastor, secretary of the Spanish Embassy, and his charming American wife, have returned from their trip abroad, which was in the nature of a second wedding trip, as the journey to Spain was his marriage with Miss Pina, made since his marriage with Miss Pina, and was made with the express purpose of introducing Senor Pastor to his relatives in Madrid.

The Viscount de Alte, the Portuguese Minister, after a prolonged leave of absence in Portugal, has returned and resumed his duties at his post here.

Admiral and Mrs. Dewey are entertaining Rear Admiral and Mrs. Ludlow.

Miss Sillie Winn Faulkner, daughter of former Senator and Mrs. C. J. Faulkner, was married Tuesday evening to Stephen Rawlins Snodgrass, at Boydville, the home of the bride, at Martinsburg, W. Va. This bride was given away by her father, and was exquisitely gowned in a Paquin creation of white satin and lace. Her sister, Mrs. William White, of Nashville, Tenn., was her only attendant, and acted as matron of honor. Mrs. White was superbly gowned in pink satin, en princess, trimmed with gold lace, and carried pink chrysanthemums. The bride's pathway was strewn with rose petals scattered by Virginia Faulkner White, the little flower girl, whose dress was of white French embroidery, with pink ribbons. The two bridesmaids, Master Whiting Faulkner and Master John Campbell, of Kentucky, were in full dress uniforms. They were met at the altar by the bridegroom and his best man, J. William Stewart, of Martinsburg, and the ceremony was solemnized by the bride's pastor, Rev. Dr. F. M. Woods, of Martinsburg Presbyterian Church. The ushers were Charles J. Faulkner, Jr., a brother of the bride, of Chicago; Arthur W. Gilman, of Chambersburg, Pa., and Harry Flood Byrd, and Daniel B. Conrad, of Winchester, Va.

Following the wedding ceremony a reception was given at Boydville. Among the guests present were Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Faulkner, Jr., of Chicago; Miss Mary V. Jameson, of Hagerstown; Miss May Willis, of Washington; Miss Martha Bassel, of Clarksburg, W. Va.; Mrs. William W. Young, of Hampton, Va.; Mrs. J. Wilton Hope, of Hampton, ex-Gov. Pitt Kellogg, of Washington, D. C.; Dr. Luther Haymond, of Clarksburg, W. Va.; Dr. and Mrs. William S. Love, Dr. and Mrs. S. P. Lathin, Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Payal, Mr. and Mrs. H. Douglass Fuller, the Misses Fuller, and Mrs. Alexander M. Baker, of Winchester, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Alexander, of Charleston, W. Va.; Mrs. Mary Campbell, of Hopkinsville, Ky.; Miss Augusta Conrad, of Winchester, Va.; Hon. and Mrs. George N. Southwick, of Washington, D. C., and Representative Wallace T. Foote, of New York.

The bride and bridegroom left on a late train last night for a bridal trip, which will include New York and other Eastern cities. They are to make their home in Martinsburg, where Miss Faulkner was among the most popular of the younger society girls.

Mr. Snodgrass, who is secretary and treasurer of the Auburn Wagon Company, is a well-known and very popular young business man of Martinsburg, W. Va.

Mme. Gurgel do Amaral, wife of the secretary of the Brazilian Embassy, who went to Europe in June, with her sister, Mlle. Goodhina, will remain abroad this winter. She is the wife of the Count de Gurgel, who has been far from well for the past year.

Mme. Chermont, wife of the second secretary of the Brazilian Embassy, is staying with her sister, Miss Sloan, at her country place near Baltimore, but makes occasional visits to the Capital to assist Mr. Chermont in the selection of a house for the winter. So far, they have not decided upon any.

Miss Edith Miller, daughter of Commander Miller, is visiting friends in the city.

Miss Miriam Crosby is contemplating spending the winter with a brother in St. Louis.

Word comes from Boston of the wedding of Robert L. Meade, Jr., son of Brig. Gen. Meade, U. S. M. C., and Miss Amy Carver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Carver, of Roxbury, Mass. They were secretly married in Boston in July, and the announcement comes as a surprise, not only to their friends, but the family as well.

A cable from Havana tells of the engagement of Lieut. Logan Tucker, grandson of Mrs. John A. Logan and son of Col. and Mrs. W. F. Tucker, and Mrs. Broome, former wife of Capt. Broome, U. S. A. Mrs. Broome is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Berbour, of Rhode Island avenue. The wedding, it is said, will take place next month.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Woolberg will be pleased to see their friends Sunday, October 27, from 8 to 10 p. m., at their residence, 507 Cameron street, Alexandria, Va., in honor of the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage.

Among the Washington guests at Natural Bridge Hotel, in Virginia, are: Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Schmitt, Miss Hardt, Wallace B. Philip, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Caverly, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Townsend, Paul Peck, Mr. and Mrs. Henry White, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Nickals, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Kilby.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrington Mills are touring the Virginia resorts in their fine Oldsmobile, and reached Natural Bridge two days of fine daylight drive. Following in their own cars were Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Easterday, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Caverly, Mr. and Mrs. Henry White, and Henry Peck.

TELLS ABOUT HIS TRIP

Chandler Reviews Flight in McCoy Balloon.

LANDS IN AN OPEN FIELD

Traveled Over Several States and Was Approaching Chesapeake Bay When the Decision to Descend Is Reached—Landing Is Made Safely Near Annapolis—Balloon Deflated.

Capt. Charles de Forrest Chandler, of the Signal Corps, U. S. A., who acted as aid to Mr. J. C. McCoy, of New York, in the great balloon race held under the auspices of the Aero Club of America, arrived in Washington yesterday afternoon from Annapolis, Md., where his balloon alighted yesterday morning. Despite the fact that Capt. Chandler had been almost totally without sleep for the two previous nights, he looked little the worse for his experience.

When told that from the latest reports the German representatives seemed likely to capture first honors, he desired his congratulations to be conveyed to them in the event of their winning. Asked as to whom he had expected would win, Capt. Chandler announced his opinion that the balloon yet to be accounted for, and which is supposedly one of the French entries, might cut a decided figure in the final result of the race.

As regards the course of Mr. McCoy's balloon, in which the captain rode, Capt. Chandler said:

Describes the Flight.

"We left St. Louis at 4:20 p. m., central standard time, Monday afternoon, in a direction a little west of north, and continued in that course until after dark. We sailed over Indiana and Ohio in a general easterly direction, toward Celina, the first town sighted in Ohio. We turned to the northeast, over Merion, Ohio, later shifting to the east, then southeast. This course continued until yesterday morning. At 1:20 o'clock yesterday morning, we passed over Harpers Ferry, W. Va., coming down toward Maryland, and sailing over Rockville about 6 o'clock this morning, at which time Washington was in plain view. Continuing easterly, we came finally into sight of Chesapeake Bay. Mr. McCoy decided to land before reaching the bay, and after several miles of guide roping, we descended in an open field suitable for the purpose. Our balloon was then deflated and packed ready for shipment to New York. The descent was made about a quarter of a mile to the northeast of Portland Station, Anne Arundel County, Md. The time was 7:35, eastern standard. I then came on to Washington, arriving about 1 o'clock this afternoon, and Mr. McCoy went on to New York."

Capt. Chandler was of the opinion it would be much better for all contestants if the future races could be started from a point farther West than St. Louis, as such a course would permit a much longer voyage and better records.

"It would, however," continued Capt. Chandler, "be a very difficult problem to find such a place, with the proper facilities for such a race, on account of the difficulty in securing an adequate amount of the proper kind of gas."

"For the present race, for instance, 20,000 cubic feet of pure coal gas was required."

May Become Popular Sport.

Capt. Chandler regards the race as the one great thing to promote ballooning as a popular sport in the United States among those whose means will permit them to indulge in it. He added:

"As regards the aeronautic department of the United States service, such contests will be of immense aid, because of the fact that they render available for times of war, a large number of civilians, who become proficient, not only in the manufacturing and repairing of balloons, but also in their management. It is, in my opinion, essential that an aeronaut, to become an expert, should first have a thorough course in free ballooning."

All Tuesday, while crossing Indiana and Ohio, the America was in sight of three of the other contestants. The highest altitude was reached early yesterday morning near Harpers Ferry, the distance being reckoned at about a mile and a half. During the voyage Lake Erie was sighted, and the Mississippi River was crossed near Grafton, a point on the Illinois side.

The distance traveled by the America, Mr. McCoy's balloon, is estimated at about 75 miles, air line. The total time was thirty-seven hours.

While the McCoy-Chandler trip was not the winning flight, the War Department officials are pleased over the success achieved, and the record Capt. Chandler is making in aerial navigation.

Capt. Chandler said last evening that no other aeronautic voyages were contemplated in the immediate future.

MR. WARING DIES OF WOUND.

Funeral Services Will Be Held This Afternoon.

Robert B. Waring, twenty-five years old, who accidentally shot himself while on a train going to his work at Chesapeake Beach, Tuesday morning, died yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, following a surgical operation. Waring was the son of the late Dr. John B. Waring, of Upper Marlboro, Md. He is survived by one brother and three sisters.

Funeral services will be held at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Upper Marlboro, this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be in Mt. Carmel cemetery.

GERMAN BALLOON MAY WIN BIG RACE

this afternoon, St. Louis' great balloon tournament, conceded to be the greatest in the history of aeronautics, came to an end amid the plaudits of over 4,000 people.

Lincoln Beachy, of Omaha, won over his old trainer, Capt. Thomas S. Baldwin, of San Francisco, this afternoon, by a margin of two minutes and twenty-five seconds, in a two-mile race around the James L. Blair Monument and back to the balloon grounds. He beat Jack Dallas, of Omaha, by a margin of one minute and thirty seconds.

After the close of the event the contest committee, composed of Albert B. Lambert, G. Herbert Walker, S. H. Valentine, of New York; former Gov. D. R. Francis, and President L. D. Dozier, met at the Aero Club headquarters and awarded the three cash prizes. Beachy was awarded first prize, $1,000; Dallas the second, $500, and Capt. Baldwin third, $250.

KANSAS ENJOYS PROSPERITY

Gov. Hoch Speaks in High Terms of Western Domain.

Declares President Roosevelt Is Only Candidate in His State for Presidential Nomination.

"Kansas was never as prosperous as it is now. Wall street furies don't bother us any. Everything out our way has to be carried on in a legitimate, proper manner—no wild-cat schemes for us."

"This, in sum and substance, is the opinion of Gov. Hoch, of Kansas, on the Wall street situation. The executive of the Sunflower State is at the Elkhart, having arrived late yesterday afternoon from one of his lecture tours. He is here in the interest of his brother-in-law, J. T. Dickerson, whom he would like to see appointed a Federal judge in the Indian Territory by President Roosevelt. Gov. Hoch intends to call on the President to-day.

"President Roosevelt is the only candidate Kansas has in view for another term. There are many reasons why he should be re-elected. The main reason is, however, that so many important measures have been initiated by him, which, it seems to me, he could see to a successful finish with a more satisfactory result than anybody else."

"Problems in Kansas are a success. It is in operation in 100 counties of the 106. The other five counties are still having some trouble with. The jail and poorhouse in Kansas is a joke, and our State has accumulated an unprecedented wealth. The indebtedness of Kansas is $300,000,000, and now the cash wealth per capita is $100. There are arrests. It is true, but the moral conscience of our people is much higher developed than anywhere else."

"Two-cent fare was introduced in Kansas on the 5th of this month after considerable opposition to the measure on the part of the railroads. They will probably fight the matter and carry it to the courts, but that is their privilege."
